

Abdullah drives into some small trees and stops the car. He gets his gun and talks on the radio again. Mandy goes into the trees and looks at the road. 'The poachers are moving again!' she says. 'They're in the truck. And the man with the gun is on the back.' 'Are they driving away?' Abdullah asks. 'No!' Mandy says. 'Help! They're coming back here!'

Abdullah starts the car again. But it is in the sand now and it doesn't move. He goes in front of the car with his gun. Mandy goes behind the car. Suddenly there is a very loud noise and they see a helicopter in front of them. It makes a big cloud of sand and the poachers can't see the road. The truck stops in the sand and two men run from it into the desert.
