

In front of them, they could see a little house. They had never seen one like it before. It was made of cookies and cake, chocolate, coconut, ice-cream, fruit, sugar, and lots of other sweet things.

“Wow!”

The hungry children quickly ran toward the house. They began to eat.

They were eating the house when an old woman came out. She was ugly. But she smiled at them and asked them to eat as much as they wanted.

“The house won’t fall down,” she laughed. Then she said, “Come inside children, come inside. There’s more here.”
