

Then it crashed down. Woody fell onto the store's cat! Gabby Gabby's tall dolls started to run at them.

"Duke! Get us out of here!" shouted Bo.

She and the other toys held the string behind his motorbike. Woody tried not to fall off the angry cat. Seconds later, they were outside ...

"Forky's still in there," Woody said.

"Woody, it's better to wait," Buzz tried to explain. "I saw it ... Bonnie's backpack!" But Woody didn't listen. He started to walk back inside.

"Open your eyes, Woody," Bo said softly. "There are a lot of kids out there. You can't just think about one all the time."

"I have to look after Bonnie," answered Woody. "A lost toy can't understand that!"

"I'm not the one who's lost." Bo walked away sadly with her friends.

Woody looked at Buzz. "I don't leave toys behind," he said.

"Woody ..." Buzz began, but his friend went back inside. Buzz turned to go back to the RV park.
