

Judy was surprised that Nick was helping her. Maybe foxes weren't so bad after all? "Thank you," she said quietly.

Nick explained that other animals were mean to him because he was a fox. Chief Bogo was mean to Judy because she was a rabbit. He understood how Judy felt.

As they talked, Nick looked down at the traffic below them. Suddenly, he had a great idea. They could look at the city's traffic cameras to find the driver. Perhaps Deputy Mayor Bellwether would help them?

They arrived at Zootopia Town Hall and heard Mayor Lionheart shouting at Deputy Mayor Bellwether, "I'm going out." He was very rude to her.

Deputy Mayor Bellwether was happy to help them. Together, they looked at the traffic cameras. A group of wolves found Mr. Manchas locked to the street light. They took him and put him in a truck. Then one of the wolves howled.

"That's it!" thought Judy. "Wolves howl at night so night howlers must mean wolves!" If the wolves took Mr. Manchas, maybe they took Mr. Otterton, too?

